SUGGESTION BOX:

SUGGESTION: "There are many men in this club who cannot get to the ARC until the evening to read the papers. However, when entering the show we see men who couldn't wait for 10 minutes, reading papers stolen from the ARC. How about having the AM stamping the papers, and then have an IP check these theater goers. I believe that these men could be convinced that others would like to read them".

ANSWER: Thanks for the suggestion of stamping the papers with "American Red Cross". As for their disappearance, this problem is as old as Red Cross Clubs. The Red Cross cannot station guards on their doors, and IP's are not available for news or inspecting. S.B. suggests the men who use the club remind those who take papers that others would like to read them. S.B. apologizes again for obviously delaying publication of a suggestion.
