

306th Bomb Group Museum

Newsflash 16 March 2020

Friends, as with many organisations around the world we at the Museum feel that it is our social responsibility to not open the Museum to the public until such a time in the future when any risk to health from coronavirus has vanished. A painful decision but absolutely the right one! Watch this space for any future changes of policy.

Due to other changes here in the UK, henceforth the point of contact for the Museum will be spikeread@hotmail.com NOT that given in Newsletter No.8.

Finally, apologies for the “inverted” Union Jack in N/L 8. Story is that a visitor pointed out that the flag was upside down and offered to put it the right way up. He duly turned it round but alas, it was the right way up in the first place!!

Keep fit! MDD
