

220%

Roskovitch

Rachy - gun & camera -
often used camera instead of gun!
2-1

Michael Roskovich
same photo twice in archives with different backs

From the Roskovich family collection

From the Roskovich family collection

From the Roskovich family collection

Photos from the collection of Albert E. Blackburn. Albert E. Blackburn was an operations clerk with the 379th Bomb Group in England during World War II and held the rank of T/Sgt.

The "Mad Russian" cutting and collecting the tie from one of the many pilots he flew with in combat

Photos from the collection of Albert E. Blackburn. Albert E. Blackburn was an operations clerk with the 379th Bomb Group in England during World War II and held the rank of T/Sgt.

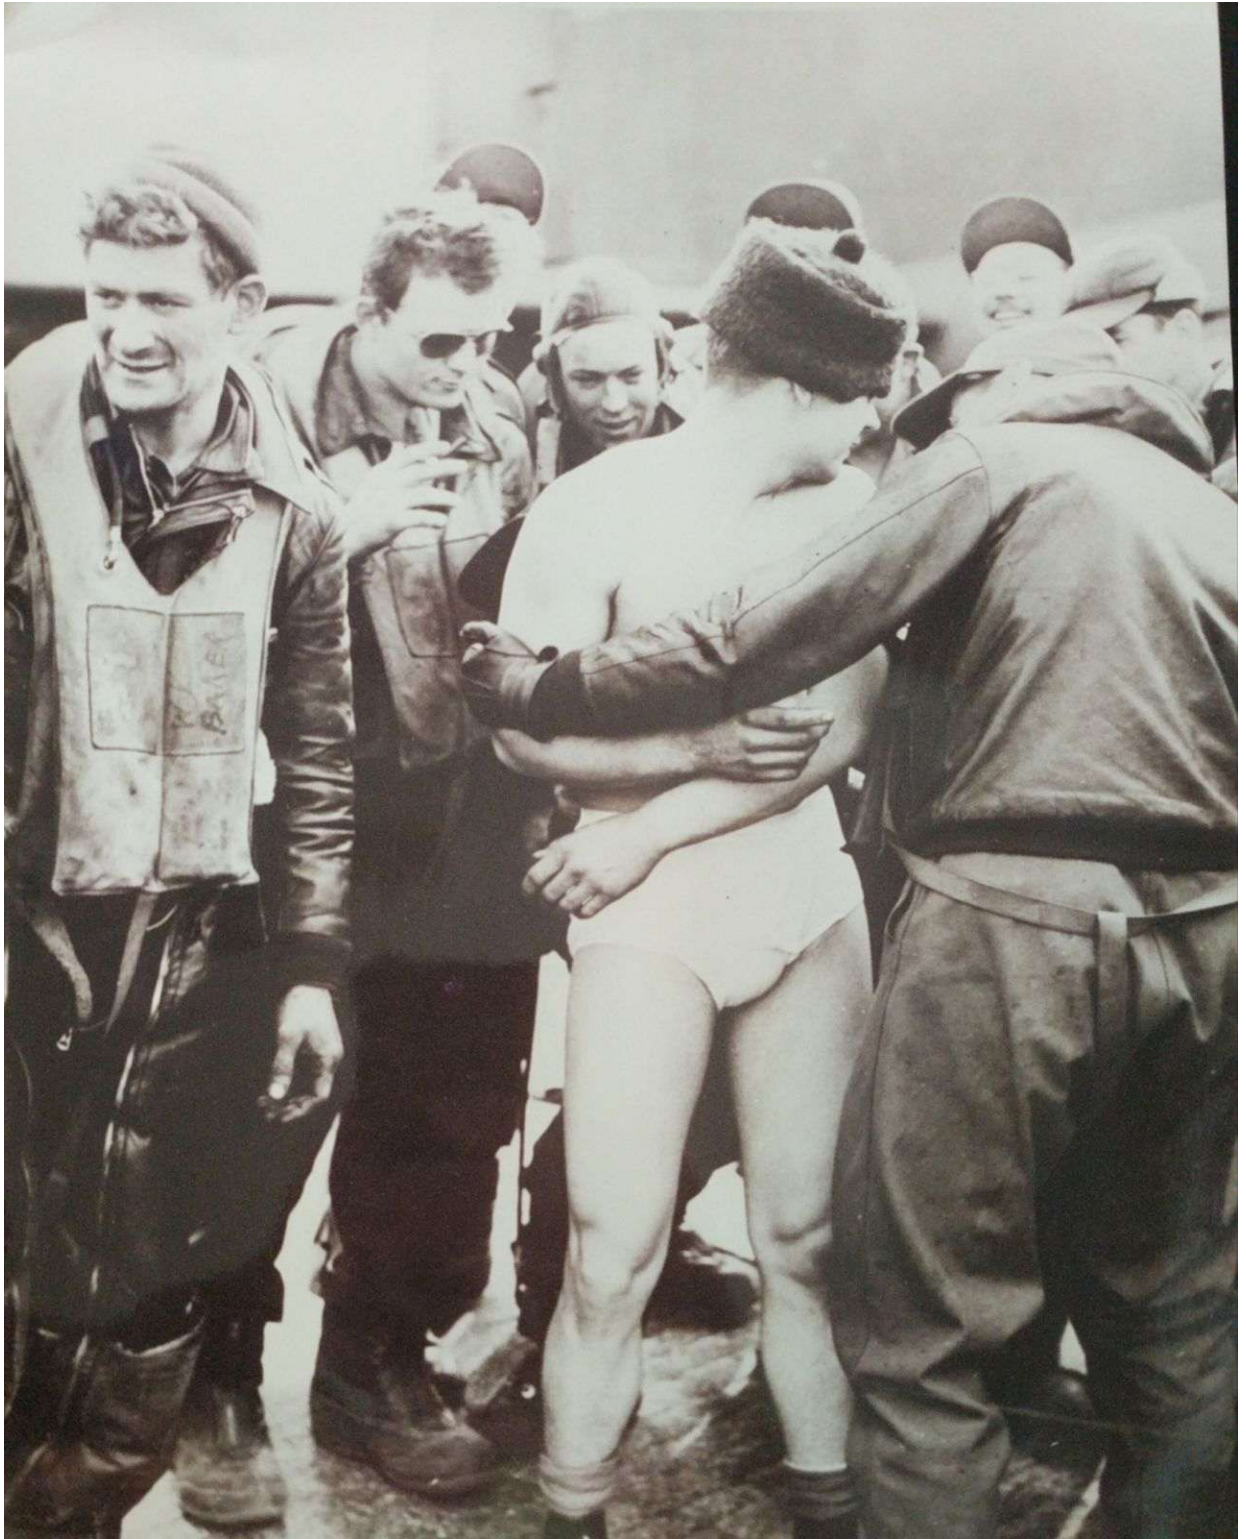

The "Mad Russian" cutting and collecting the tie from one of the many pilots he flew with in combat

Michael Roskovich's collection of ties on display in the 306th BG Photo Lab

From the Roskovich family collection

From the Roskovich family collection, completing his 25th combat mission, starting a new tradition to celebrate completion of 25 missions

From Roskovich family collection

MRS. ELDRIDGE AND ME
TAKEN ON APRIL - 1943
IN BEDFORD, ENG.
IN FRONT OF THE HOUSE - BY CAPT. ELDRIDGE

MRS. ELDRIDGE AND
I - APR. - 1943

From the Roskovich Family collection, same photo twice with different backs

From the Roskovich family collection Vincent Nigrelli (379th Bomb Group)

From the Roskovich family collection

Michael Roskovich was assigned to the Purvis Youree Crew (Olde Faithful) shown below as Radio Operator and completed 20 of his 25 missions with Youree. He would fill in on other missions, photo with the Check crew as a tail gunner

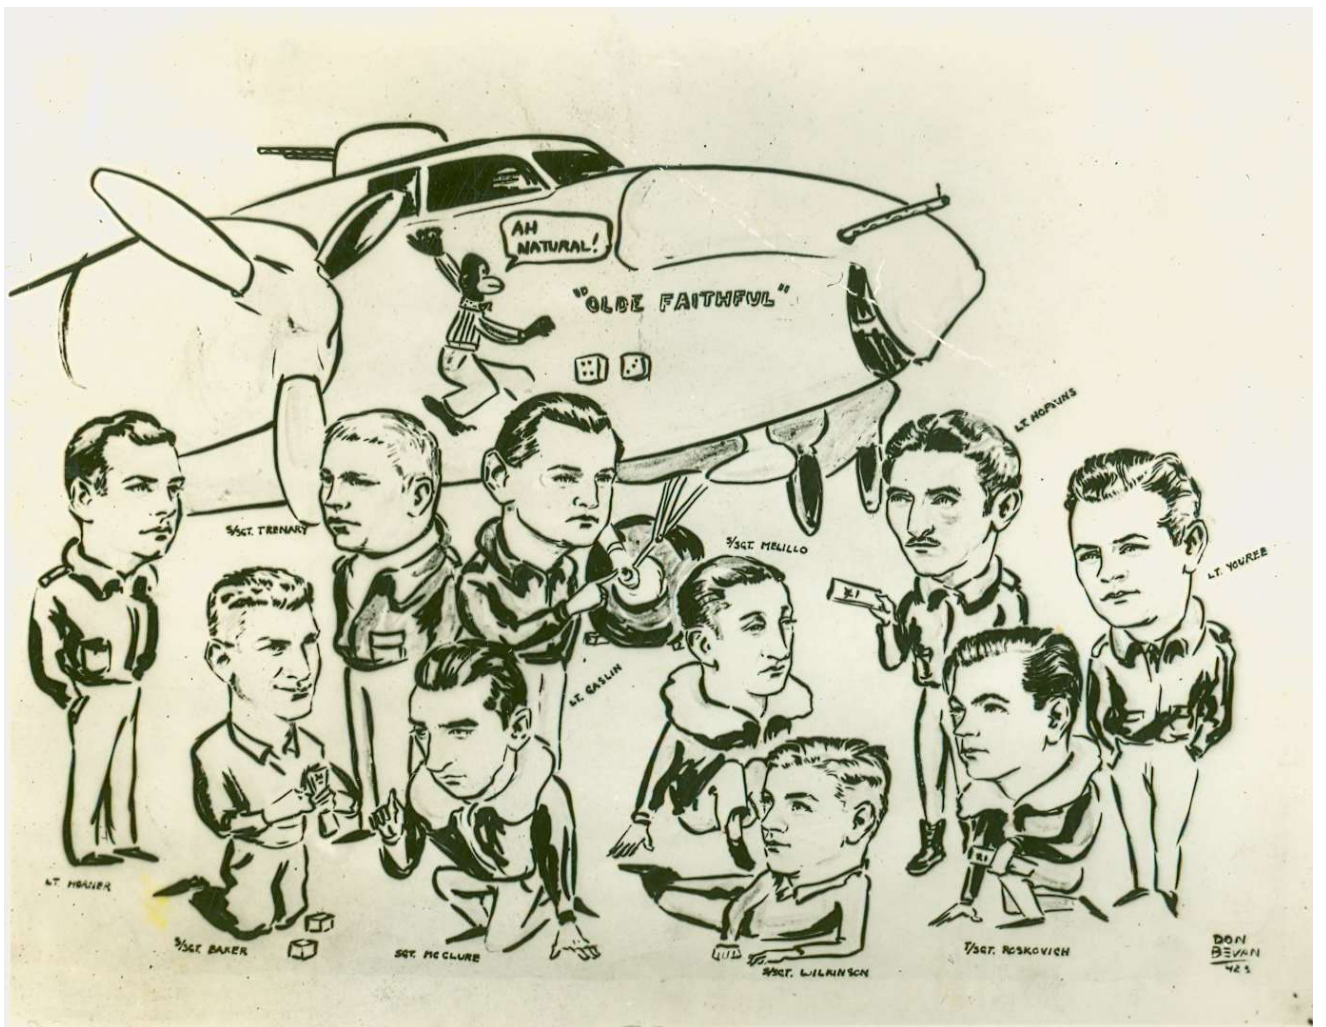

Illustration done by Donald Bevan gunner with the 423rd BS of the Youree crew

B-17G #42-31715. KNO crashed on take-off from RAF Drem, East Lothian, Scotland on 4 Feb 1944. Photo taken 5 Feb 1944 Francis Waugh. 6 fatalities including Michel Roskovich as well as two RAF servicemen